Depending on the assignment that we are doing, we may need to make sure that our BIOS can operate in legacy mode, which supports a MBR. To check if your BIOS is the right version, you might look at the following:

The above BIOS version does NOT support MBR, so you will have to flash your BIOS to upgrade it.

Upgrading the BIOS

I have a flash drive that I have created that you can borrow or clone. Essentially you will follow a similar procedure to this.
